TOP EXHIBITIONS OPENING THIS WEEK IN NEW YORK (MARCH 31 – APRIL 6)

Thursday:

Raymond Pettibon: "Are Your Motives Pure? Surfers 1987-2012" at Venus Over Manhattan April 3 – May 17 Opening: April 3, 6-8pm 980 Madison Avenue This exhibition will focus exclusively on Raymond Pettibon's "surfer paintings." Among works on view are early small-scale, monochrome India ink paintings; numerous paintings from the 1990s when the artist introduced color to his work; and a group of rare, large-scale paintings measuring up to nearly 10 feet wide – bravura works replete with the fluid dynamism of Pettibon's line and the enduring potency of a favorite metaphor.
